The Chicago Mountaineering Club
2012 Annual Dinner - Saturday, March 3rd

Mission Statement

Promote interest in the sport and craft of mountaineering.

Foster fellowship among climbers of the Chicago/Midwest area.

Disseminate mountaineering knowledge and information.

Develop skill in the climbing techniques of its Members.

Sponsor local practice outings and periodic western outings.

Our featured speaker this year is Mark Wilford. Mark is considered one of the most proficient and diverse alpinist/rock climbers in the world. With more than 30 years of experience, he has accumulated a long resume of bold rock ascents, alpine solos, Alaskan climbs and Himalayan expeditions. Among his most notable climbs are the first American solo ascent of the Eiger North Face, a first ascent route on Nameless Tower, a winter solo of the Diamond on Long's Peak and first ascents in Alaska's Saint Elias Range with Barry Blanchard. Although he has participated in sport climbing and ice-climbing events, Mark is considered a staunch traditionalist when it comes to the style and ethics of climbing."Whatever that means these days," he jokes. "I just like to climb. I just love climbing."
